c. Coordinating Instructions. All personnel aboard MCB CAMLEJ shall comply with this Order.

(1) Information/Policy

(a) While crime prevention is a command responsibility, there are resources available to aid in establishing/maintaining a Crime Prevention Program. Valuable information, consultation, and positive Crime Prevention measures are available from Personnel Officers, Command Inspectors, Chaplains, Disbursing Officers, Staff Judge Advocates, the Provost Marshal, club and Exchange Officers, Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society representatives, Equal Opportunity Officers, Drug and Alcohol Control Officers, Intelligence Officers, Naval Criminal Investigative Service Special Agents, Communication Strategy and Operations representatives, and local law enforcement agencies. Effective crime prevention programs require total integration and involvement of all resources available to the command.

(b) Commanders should make maximum use of all available media, i.e., Base newspapers, social media, local television, posters, troop formations, which provide the command excellent means for conveying ideas and policy changes to all personnel.

(c) The PMO provides assistance via physical security and crime prevention surveys. Qualified, school-trained physical security specialists are available for scheduling/conducting physical security and crime prevention surveys to determine potential crime threat areas, identify security deficiencies, and recommend corrective actions.

(d) The security aspects of structures must be considered during planning and design phases in the total systems approach to crime prevention. Law enforcement personnel trained in physical security and physical security specialists will review all new construction/major modification plans of all facilities to be constructed on MCB CAMLEJ.

(e) Crime Prevention programs are intended to acquaint all personnel with the need for security measures and to ensure their cooperation. A locked gate or file cabinet does not in itself constitute effective physical security/crime prevention, but is merely an element in the overall security plan. All military and civilian personnel must continually be aware of overall security elements. Classes on the Crime Prevention Program are available through the PMO, Physical Security Section.

(2) Crime Prevention Checklist and Survey

(a) To assist in attacking specific crime problems through an orderly and integrated process, a Crime Prevention Checklist is provided in enclosure (3). A Crime Prevention Survey Checklist for Marine Corps Businesses, Cash and Merchandise is provided in enclosure (4).

(b) The checklists and survey are not meant to be all inclusive and are limited only by imagination, initiative, and resources. It is not intended that a guide be developed for all crimes, but only those determined to be the most effective means for preventing or reducing crimes.

5. Administration and Logistics. Not applicable.

SEP 10 2019

Crime Prevention Measures

Methods to resist crime are many and varied. The following do not cover the entire field of crime prevention, but rather are intended to focus attention on the more important aspects and to direct efforts where the greatest benefit can be obtained in reducing crime.

1. Indoctrination. Indoctrination is probably the single most important crime prevention measure. Newly joined personnel should be oriented, preferably within 24 to 48 hours, concerning local crime and how to avoid becoming a victim. Refresher programs should be provided quarterly for all unit personnel. Minimally, indoctrination shall include:

- a. How to report crimes and to whom
- b. The best means to safeguard valuable property
- c. Where high crime areas are
- d. Situations to avoid
- e. Practicing the "buddy" system during and returning from liberty

2. Barracks Larceny Countermeasures. This should be an ongoing program within the organization and shall include:

- a. Purchase engraving tools to identify highly pilferable personal items
- b. Positive control over visitors and access to living spaces
- c. After-hours checks by duty personnel for conditions conducive to crime, i.e., unsecured wall lockers, unsecured money or highly pilferable items, unauthorized visitors in the area, etc.
- d. Corrective action shall be taken promptly and reports rendered to CO's.

3. Lighting. Lighting is a strong deterrent to crime. Outside areas shall be evaluated with additional lighting added as required and feasible, particularly in areas with a history of assaults and robberies. Parking and storage areas should be adequately lit.

4. Barracks Security Watches. Barracks security watches (Duty NCO's) shall be assigned in and around all living spaces and shall be alert for thieves or other unauthorized personnel in the area. Security watches should be assigned at each level, working around the outside (balcony) area. A strict key control program is also essential.

5. Parking Lots. Walking patrols, equipped with radios for fast response, should cover large, adequately illuminated parking lots. Patrols should be alert for person(s) "working on their vehicles," as these often involve thefts of electronics, tires, batteries, citizens band radios, Consolidated Issue Facility gear, etc.

6. Government Property. Government property is particularly susceptible to pilfering and must be under positive control and secured at all times. Government property should be etched or stamped for positive identification where feasible. Using a Reporting Unit Identification Code is suggested for items lacking serial numbers. Engraving tools, available through Self-Service, should be maintained at the unit level for stamping purposes. Markings should be uniform for like items and should not be placed solely on component parts, which are easily removed. Care must be taken when marking items so as not to render the government property unserviceable or unsafe. Tools and other highly pilferable items should be kept in locked containers when not in use. Bolt cutters should be strictly controlled using a sign in and out register.

7. Keys. Key access must be strictly controlled and limited to a minimum number of personnel consistent with need. Keys should be logged in and out; locks should be immediately replaced when three keys to the same lock have been lost, or if it appears extra keys are in circulation. Reference (c) provides guidance/requirements for establishing a key control program.

8. Vehicles

a. Government Vehicles. Tactical vehicles removed from the motor pool and left unattended should have steering mechanisms secured with a locking device (lock and chain), or the vehicle must be secured in a similar manner. Commercial vehicles should have ignition keys removed with all doors and windows secured when unattended.

b. Privately Owned Vehicles (POV). POVs are especially vulnerable to theft and pilfering. The POV owners should ensure ignition keys are removed, and all doors and windows secured when unattended. Personal and/or government property should not be stored in POVs.

9. Petroleum Products. To prevent fuel pilferage from vehicle tanks, dispatched vehicles should be closely monitored by frequently making comparisons of mileage driven versus fuel used. Military fuel cans should not be filled unless an obvious need for additional fuel exists while the vehicle is in use. Particular attention should be paid to tankers and storage tanks to protect against unauthorized dispensing of petroleum, oil, and lubricant products. Dispensing hoses should be adequately secured when not in use.

10. Private Property. Individuals living in barracks should be encouraged to complete enclosure (5), in duplicate, listing all items valued at 50 dollars and over. One copy should be kept on file in the barracks manager's office, and the other copy retained by the individual. Newly acquired items should be added to the inventory list as soon as they are obtained. Items without serial numbers should be appropriately marked with an electric engraver and/or photographed.

11. Cash

a. Except for rare circumstances, military personnel should not keep unreasonable amounts of cash on hand, whether the money is on their person, inside POVs, or in their living quarters. Generally over 100 dollars is considered to be an unreasonable amount of cash.

b. Commanders may use unit safes to store members' monies temporarily. The money should be counted by the Commander or their designee, placed in an envelope by the owner, sealed, and signed by the owner over the seal with clear adhesive tape placed over the seal and signature.

12. Barracks/Quarters Occupants. Information and checklists concerning crime prevention measures for occupants of barracks/quarters are available from Physical Security. The following definitions in enclosure (6) are intended to clarify terms used in crime prevention.

Crime Prevention Programs Currently in Effect at Camp Lejeune

1. The following crime prevention programs are currently in effect at MCB CAMLEJ, and are available and presented to all personnel aboard the Installation as indicated.

a. Operation Identification

(1) Upon request, this program is offered to anyone stationed, living, or working aboard MCB CAMLEJ. Physical Security will provide an engraver to unit representatives E-6 or above.

(2) Individuals residing off Base are referred to the local police department.

b. Welcome Aboard Briefs. All new arrivals are briefed by a PMO representative upon command request to make them aware of crime activity prevalent in this area and to inform them on how to prevent and/or avoid such crimes. They are also briefed on other Crime Prevention Programs available to them through PMO.

c. Pre-Deployment Briefs. Prior to a unit's deployment from MCB CAMLEJ, family members are invited to a pre-deployment brief. Topics covered include: problems encountered during the service member's absence and the agencies that can provide relief to family members, i.e., Red Cross, Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, Chaplain's Office, and Military Police.

d. McGruff. Physical Security provides McGruff appearances and safety lectures to elementary schools, youth activities, installation, and unit functions. Educational, promotional and informational materials funding are required for crime prevention outreach. For example, deoxyribonucleic kits, informational booklets, crime prevention stickers, police badges, crime prevention wrist bands, pencils, identification kits etc. are needed to complete suitable outreach appearances.

e. Pawn Shop Liaison. This program seeks to minimize the disposal of stolen goods at pawn shops, by maintaining a close liaison with the proprietors of such businesses, and the use of an online database. Additionally, Crime Prevention Specialist should encourage the managers of pawn shops to report all suspicious transactions to the police.

f. Child Identification Program. This program provides parents a permanent record of fingerprints, photographs, physical characteristics, dental charts, and personal/medical information. The Child Print Identification Kit will only be provided to a child's parent or guardian. PMO does not retain any identification data from this program.

g. Crime Prevention Month. Through various media, a concerted effort is directed at increasing community awareness of the crime problem in that locality. An emphasis is placed on the need for reporting known suspected criminal activities.

h. Crime Stoppers Program. An anti-crime program that uses anonymous tips to apprehend criminals, and pays a reward for useful information. An individual desiring to report criminal activity can call a 24-hour hotline number, 910-938-3273 or text TIPS4CSJAX and tip to 274637, without revealing their identity and provides all pertinent information. If an apprehension results from the information received, the caller can receive a monetary reward of a size appropriated to the crime.

i. Family Orientation Briefings. Families reporting to a new duty station and prior the deployment of military member receives an orientation briefing. All aspects concerning life aboard the installation are covered, including Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, Commissary, Exchange, Medical, religious and Military Police service available.

j. Neighborhood Watch. Participation by civic-minded citizens within a neighborhood is solicited. These neighborhood representatives serve as a focal point for various problems within the area. Through their efforts the homes of persons on leave or otherwise absent may be looked after. Problems within the neighborhood may first be referred to these representatives who contact appropriate social agencies for assistance. Programs of this type have been successful in improving community relations and opening lines of communication.

k. Neighborhood Meeting. Periodic meetings chaired by the CG, Provost Marshal, Housing Officer, or other designated representatives to discuss and resolve problems in the military community.

l. Officer Friendly/School Resource Officers Program. This program teaches young children that Military and Civilian Police Officers are there to help them and the community. Several subjects can be covered in conjunction with this program; e.g., Bicycle Safety, Beware of Strangers, etc.

m. Youth Activities Sponsored By the Installation. Youth activities with Military Police participation, such as athletic events, Bicycle Rodeos, and PMO tours, increase the positive image of law enforcement among youthful dependents.

Crime Prevention Program Definitions

The following definitions are intended to clarify terms used in crime prevention:

1. Crime. An act or omission, defined in law, and made punishable by constituted authority through a judicial proceeding for the protection of society.
2. Crime Prevention. The application of measures necessary to minimize the opportunity or desire to commit or engage in criminal activities.
3. Crime Prevention Program. The continuing command program for planning, coordinating, executing, reviewing, evaluating, and updating courses of action or measures that prevent criminal acts from occurring or that minimize the opportunity or motivation to commit, conceal, or engage in criminal activities.
4. Crime Repression. The reduction of crimes and offenses resulting from patrolling, Physical Security Surveys, observation of people and places considered crime producing, and employment of off-limits procedures to preclude military personnel from participating in activities conducive to crime.
5. Physical Security. Active and passive measures to safeguard personnel and property against personal injury, loss of life, burglary, theft, sabotage, espionage, damage, or destruction.
6. Physical Security and Crime Prevention Surveys. A specific on-site examination of any facility or activity conducted by a trained physical security specialist to identify security vulnerabilities and recommend corrective measures.
7. Child Identification Program. The purpose of this program is to provide parents a permanent record of fingerprints, photographs, and identification data on their children. Fingerprint cards and photographs will only be provided to the child's parent or guardian. Under no circumstances will identification data be retained in Government files.
8. Crime Prevention Month. Through various media, a concerted effort is directed at increasing community awareness of the crime problem in that locality. An emphasis is placed on the need for reporting known suspected criminal activities.
9. Crime Stoppers Program. An anti-crime program that uses anonymous tips to apprehend criminals, and pays a reward for useful information. An individual desiring to report criminal activity calls a well-publicized telephone line at the military police desk and, without revealing the identity, provides all pertinent information in a log, assigns a code number (such as 10-92-tenth call in 1992) to the caller. The anonymous caller is requested to use this number in all future conversation with the military police. If an apprehension results from the information received, the caller can receive a monetary reward of a size appropriated to the crime. Unlike a civilian program, a Crime Stoppers Program under military auspices cannot solicit contributions for disbursement of rewards. Accordingly, a board of directors from various installations activities must approve all expenditures. Consultation with the local Staff Judge Advocate is essential prior to the establishment of a Crime Stoppers Program.

10. Family Orientation Briefings. Families reporting to a new duty station and prior the deployment of military member receives an orientation briefing. All aspects concerning life aboard the installation are covered, including Navy and Marine Corps Relief Society, Commissary, Exchange, Medical, religious and military Police service available.

12. Neighborhood Watch. Participation by civic-minded citizens within a neighborhood is solicited. These neighborhood representatives serve as a focal point for various problems within the area. Through their efforts the homes of persons on leave or otherwise absent may be looked after. Problems within the neighborhood may first be referred to these representatives who contact appropriate social agencies for assistance. Programs of this type have been successful in improving community relations and opening lines of communication.

13. Neighborhood Meeting. Periodic meetings chaired by the CG, Provost Marshal, Family Housing Director, or other designated representatives to discuss and resolve problems in the military community.

14. Officer Friendly/School Resource Officers Program. This program teaches young children that Military and Civilian Police Officers are there to help them and the community. Several subjects can be covered in conjunction with this program; e.g., bicycle safety, beware of strangers, etc.

15. Pawn Shop Liaison. This program seeks to minimize the disposal of stolen goods at pawn shops, by maintaining a close liaison with the proprietors of such businesses, and periodically providing them a list of stolen property. Additionally, Crime Prevention Specialist should encourage the managers of pawn shops to report all suspicious transactions to the police.

16. Youth Activities Sponsored By the Installation. Youth activities with Military Police participation, such as athletic events, bicycle rodeos, and PMO tours, increase the positive image of Law Enforcement among youthful dependents.
